My dear Don Carlos:

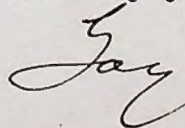

I am glad indeed you are getting out a book of the Spanish songs of Old California. You know yourself how fond I am of them.

I recall that many years ago you got one out in, I think it was, the journal of the Archaeological Society, called La Noche Esta Serena, which was one of the most haunting little melodies I have ever heard.

I am going to ask you to send me three copies and if you will be so good as to put your signature in one of them, it will be appreciated.

I am hoping that you are fully restored to your old-time vigor and that I may see you in the very early future. Mother joins me in affectionate regards,

Sincerely yours,
